AN ISLAND ATHLETE DOWN IN MARYLAND

Stanley H. H. Ashford, a Honolulu boy, now deputy collector (and acting collector) of customs at Annapolis, has been helping to uphold our Hawaiian reputation for athletics in Maryland. Under date of August 27, he writes: "Day before yesterday we had the Club Regatta. I was captain of a lightweight crew, and while in Solomon's Island some of the lightweights got together and thought they had an invincible crew, telling me to make a crew of what was left. I did so, without much hope of winning, and took a crew that had never worked together before, gave them a spiel as to what they were to do, and, as I was rowing bow and steering the shell (we carry no coxswain), I could coach them. By hard and cool-headed work, we won the race by a nose, and now I have a silver medal."

ANGELENOS SMASH THE S. P. MACHINE

Reformers in Control of City and Are Cleaning Up With the New Broom.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

LOS ANGELES, August 28.—Never in the political history of the United States has there been a more complete defeat of a Republican political machine than that with which the old S. P. organization met last night at the Los Angeles County Republican convention. At 11:10 o'clock last night, when the convention adjourned, the "regulars" were in total rout and their organization was a thing of the past. It was just a disorganized herd which flocked from the convention hall. Up until the time the convention was called to order there was much doubt as to what the complexion of that body would be. The "regulars," or old S. P. machine, claimed that they had enough delegates to carry the chairmanship. That meant that they would control the fall campaign despite the fact that the majority of the Republican candidates are insurgents. The Lincoln-Roosevelt League, or "Link-Roosevers," as they have been dubbed by the organization, made a like claim.

When the time came for the election of a temporary chairman pandemonium broke loose. The convention was in the hands of the "regulars" and they had that advantage to work with at the start.

But the L. R.'s were not inclined to let any opportunity pass by and they started to fight from the start. The man appointed to place the name of the "regular" candidate for the temporary chairmanship in nomination was booed down. There were cries of "Put him out!" and for a time it looked as though the convention must break up in a riot. Never before in the history of the Republican party in Southern California was there such a scene.

New Boss on the Job.

Meyer Lissner, "boss" of the L. R. party and the shrewdest political manipulator that California has seen in many a day, put through his program without a break. The chairman was handed a typewritten list of Lissner men to appoint on the committees and he did his part to the queen's taste.

Then the committees were sent into conference. In the old days of Walter Parker and the S. P. machine instructions of one kind or another were frequently sent into committee rooms, but such a proceeding was not to Lissner's taste. Typewritten copies of a platform and resolutions, including the names of the desired county central committee, were handed the committee. In short order they placed the seal of their approval upon them, they were submitted to the convention, and before anyone realized it Lissner's program had gone through in its entirety.

Despite the fact that it had been ruled that none but delegates were to be allowed upon the floor, Lissner occupied a front seat and issued his orders throughout the sitting.

Complete Reversal.

Probably no more significant convention was ever held in the United States. The strength of the Republican party in California has always been located and centralized in Los Angeles, the party in San Francisco being too badly split up to account for much. In times past the regulars could always count upon the south for solid support and in the national lawmaking bodies regular Republican leaders have numbered among their strongest supporters the men from southern California.

The coming congress will see James MacLaichan, "Our Jim," the old warhorse of the regulars, superseded by William D. Stephens, a Lincoln-Roosevelt man pledged to oppose Cannon and Aldrich. If the advisory vote taken at the primaries is heeded, John D. Works, Lincoln-Roosevelt and anti-Cannon and anti-Aldrich man, will occupy the place now held by Frank Flint in the United States Senate.

The old Republican machine like the deacon's one-hoss shay has just gone to pieces.

All the New Stunts.

Every newfangled notion from initiative and referendum to woman's suffrage was incorporated in the platform last night and the names of Cannon and Aldrich were both brought in in a manner which pronounced them unathletic.

Flint for Interior.

The program of a certain wing of the Republican party in California at present is to seat Frank P. Flint in Ralinger's chair. There is a strong element which would like to see the senator occupy the berth of secretary of the interior and if the anti-Pinchot man can be induced to resign a strong bid will be made to get the job for Flint. The chief trouble with that program is that those who favor Flint are strong Ballinger men, and they insist on prefacing their candidacy of Flint with the statement that they hope that Ballinger will not resign.

To Beat Works.

The program also contemplates the election of James N. Gillett to fill out Flint's unexpired term. The scheme is for Flint to resign and go into the cabinet and then for the governor to step out of his job and let the lieutenant-governor appoint him to the senate. On the theory that possession is nine points of the law it is believed that with Gillett once seated the legislature can be depended upon to send him back, irrespective of the advisory vote of the people.

As a matter of fact there is a strong opposition party that will not let the Lincoln-Roosevelt program go through without a struggle, and if Gillett can be seated in the senate it is felt that at least one anchor can be kept to windward.

Whether or not this program can be put through depends upon so many contingencies that even the wisest are pretty chary about making any prophecies.

A Losing Strike.

Despite the efforts of the San Francisco labor bosses to spread the impression that the metal workers' and brewers' strikes in this city are making some progress the whole movement seems to be doomed to failure. The iron works are all running full handed, building operations are going on as though nothing had happened and but for the daily trials of men charged with violating the antipicketing ordinances there are no signs of industrial unrest. Theoretically the local breweries are under the union labor boycott but theory is about as far as the boycott goes. Union men appear to patronize the saloons where nonunion beer is sold in about as great numbers as ever and no over acts have been attempted since the very early days of the strike.

The passage of the antipicketing ordinance has put a stop to the stationing of men in front of the saloons to send forth their shrill cries of "Unfair beer" and as far as outward appearances are concerned the strike seems to have petered out.

Want View of Bars.

The reform council has passed an ordinance to the effect that all saloons must be provided with clear glass doors which give an unobstructed view of the interior. The chief of police has already undertaken to see that this ordinance is enforced and as a result of it the saloon patrons are forced to take their libations in plain view of passersby on the streets.

Just what effect this rule will have on the saloon business is not certain as the law has not been in operation long enough to give a clear index as to its workability, but the antisaloon forces hail the ordinance as a victory.

Under the new ordinance all restaurants possessing a liquor license must close up at twelve o'clock midnight. Simply ceasing the serving of liquor at that hour will not do; all patrons must be turned out into the street when the stroke of midnight comes. This ordinance has called forth an awful roar from the restaurateurs but the police are enforcing it vigorously.

Cleaning Up the Town.

The purity crusade continues with unabated vigor and the metropolitan "purity squad" is making nightly raids. All recognized disorderly houses have been closed and now the authorities are turning their attention to isolated low women. Arrests are made nightly and stiff vagrancy sentences are being passed out the morning after.

The stool pigeon fund is being heavily drawn upon and it was necessary to close this month's work last night owing to the absence of funds to continue activities. Thursday there will be the new funds available, however, and the work will be started again.

As a matter of fact the good government forces are making a clean sweep, but they appear to be devoting rather more attention to petty offenses than is justified. In consequence the serious side of police work is being forgotten and felonies are multiplying with alarming rapidity. The police are a nightmare to the auto speeder and the minor offender, but they are a good deal of a joke to the yeggman.

LT.-COL. BULLARD IS ON HIS WAY HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Lieut.-Col. Robert L. Bullard, Eighth Infantry, U. S. A., has sailed for Honolulu to take command of the camp of instruction for infantry officers of the National Guard of Hawaii, at Fort Shafter for the period from September 17 to 24 inclusive.

The Hyades left for Island ports last evening to discharge the remainder of the cargo brought from the Coast.

A DISTRESSING CONDITION CURED

How This Los Angeles Woman Was Helped by the Tonic Treatment.

She Used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills When She Needed More Strength and the Pure, Rich Blood Soon Brought Complete Relief.

"I can't begin to tell of the benefit I received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. A. K. Hay, of No. 678 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, Cal. "Four or five years ago at the time of life when I needed rest, I became run down through overwork and worry caring for my husband who had been injured. I became so weak and debilitated that I didn't have strength to do my work. I had no ambition to do anything. Food didn't seem to strengthen me. I had distressing pains in the back of the neck and along the spine. I suffered from headaches, was very nervous, couldn't sleep at all, and the least little noise started me. I was confined to bed for three weeks at a time. I was reduced in weight from 134 to 115 pounds.

"I was under the care of three doctors at different times during my sickness. While taking their medicine I seemed to feel some better but would be as sick as ever when I stopped taking it. The doctors said I would never get well without an operation, but my husband would not consent to it. I became sick and my husband's friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had tried so many medicines and doctors that I didn't have much faith in the pills but decided to give them a trial. It was only a short time before I began to feel stronger. The headaches and nervousness left me and I was benefited in every way. I gave the pills a good trial and was entirely cured. I weigh more now than I have in a long time."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always the same and are sold only in packages bearing the well-known trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Pills sold in any other package, or name, by the dozen or hundred are not the same, whatever the mark tells you. Be sure you get the genuine, and get it at once, by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, six boxes for $1.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Boston, U. S. A.

VASILIEFF GETS COLD SHOULDER

The Coast Russians Refuse Him Money and Tell Him to Get Busy Himself.

Vasilieff, the Russian Moses, is back among the bullrushes. He is in San Francisco trying to raise money enough to pay his fare to Washington, where he intends to see the American Czar and have the Hawaiian sugar planters and police exiled until they agree to his "conditions." The only difficulty Vasilieff finds in carrying out his plan is that the Russian colony on the Coast won't let him have the coin.

The liberated hero of the Russian cause sailed for the green pastures of California on the last trip of the Wilhelmina, having in his train eighty-three other Russians, willing to put the sea between them and the work that started them in the face in Hawaii. The first thing these eighty-four travelers saw in the promised land was a delegation of about forty Russians from Hawaii who had preceded them, all waiting at the dock to tell Vasilieff that it was up to him to get them jobs. They had tried and failed and there was no overflow of charity in San Francisco to give them bread without the sweat of their brows. This reception was somewhat of a dampener to Vasilieff and his pilgrims, some of whom announced their readiness to come back to Honolulu if anyone would pay their fares.

San Francisco has been a great disappointment to the little children of the Czar. No one there wants them and no one there will feed them. It is certainly tough luck, while to make it worse, the Russians in the city who have jobs laughed at Vasilieff's attempt to raise coin among them, telling him and the others that they were certainly crazy to leave Hawaii, where they were being best off.

Yesterday the land commissioner received copies of the land laws of Hawaii printed in Russian, the work having been done in Los Angeles, from a translation made by A. S. Perelstous. A thousand copies of the laws have been struck off, several hundred of them having been distributed among the Russians in and around Los Angeles, while all the Russian newspapers in the country have been sent copies.

Perelstous is now in Vancouver, talking immigration to the officials of the Canadian Pacific railroad, the Canadian government having agreed to suspend the alien contract labor laws to allow the different railroad contractors in Canada to get labor. At the present time construction work is being done on three transcontinental lines and on a number of branches, the demand for labor having far exceeded the supply. Perelstous hopes to be able to make a contract with the Canadians for the taking over of several thousand Russians.

He expects to be back in Honolulu on the Zealandia, due here next week, and will see if the Hawaiian immigration board wants to do some more business in the Russian line.

IF MONEY WILL DO IT, FAIR WILL COME

SACRAMENTO, California, September 6.—The State legislature met today, having been called in special session by Governor Gillett to authorize municipal and State appropriations which will make California's fund for the Panama exposition $17,500,000, making the largest fund ever raised to start an international exposition.

The city of San Francisco has raised seven and a half millions, and the extra session of the legislature has been called to amend her charter, so that she may issue bonds for five millions. Governor Gillett also recommends to the legislature that the State issue bonds for five millions, making a total of seventeen and a half millions which California proposes to appropriate, if the big exposition in celebration of the opening of the canal in 1915 is held in San Francisco.

San Franciscans are working hard for the proposed amendments and say that if they get the seventeen-million-dollar fund to start with San Francisco will have in 1915 the greatest international exposition the world has ever seen.

ESTABLISH MAIL LINE FROM NEW ZEALAND

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco has received information that a new direct steam mail service has been inaugurated, under subsidy of the New Zealand Government, between San Francisco, Paapea, Rarotonga, Auckland and Wellington. This service will commence with the departure of the steamship Aorangi from San Francisco November 16th, the service commencing from the other end with the departure from Auckland, New Zealand, of the steamship Matai, leaving October 23d, sailing at the ports mentioned. This service will supersede the present Wellington-Paapea service, and the time consumed each way is scheduled as twenty-one days.

Official information has not been received, but this information was received yesterday by cable from the Dominion Government to H. Stephenson Smith, resident agent for the Dominion Government in San Francisco, who informed the chamber of commerce by letter and advice.

This service would appear to be a step in the right direction and undoubtedly will be perfected later, and should help out the commercial interests of this State.

OAHU FACULTY IS AUGMENTED

New and Former Teachers Came Yesterday on the Liner Wilhelmina.

Punahou's ship came in yesterday, at least in one sense, for the Wilhelmian brought fourteen Punahou teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Fitts, whose marriage took place in Brooklyn August 3rd, had a honeymoon voyage back to Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock returned after a successful trip in search of health and strength. Miss C. P. Dodge participated in her class quinquennial at Smith's. Miss A. J. Foster and Miss C. L. Sheffield returned from a summer in the States.

A number of new teachers joined the college faculty. Miss Frances B. Dillingham, who is a well known writer for magazines, will be in the English department. She is a niece of B. E. Dillingham. Miss Alida W. Brooks will take charge of the oral expression department, and Miss Lucy K. Crosby will teach in the commercial department. Miss Helen Bainbridge and Miss Blanche Folsom will teach in the preparatory school. E. T. Chase, the new director of the boarding department, C. E. Barter, head of the science department, and D. J. Ricker, who teaches mathematics and is to have charge of athletics, are the additions to the men on the faculty.

WHERE THAYER GOT HIS PHILIPPINE MONEY

Gear Supplied It From the Funds of the Sumner Estate.

The secret as to where Alford Finley Thayer got his money to go to the Philippines and buy up sugar estates—or at least as to where he got a part of the money, is out. It came from the estate of John K. Sumner and was loaned to Thayer by A. V. Gear who, until he was summarily removed, was attorney-in-fact for Sumner.

And that isn't all. A. V. Gear, as attorney-in-fact for Sumner, loaned $2300 to the Francis Levy Outfitting Club, of Fort street, the dollar-a-week concern that on that basis furnishes the latest "nobby suits" to the gilded youth of Honolulu. And A. V. Gear is the principal stockholder in the Francis Levy Outfitting Club. The incorporation papers of the firm show that it is incorporated for $30,000, of which $21,000 is said to be paid in. A. V. Gear, for himself, is down for $1500 worth of stock; A. V. Gear, trustee, $8390; Manuel Marks, $5; Francis Levy, $7500; Francis Levy, trustee, $200; W. P. Strauch, $5; P. E. R. Strauch, $5000.

Gear's accounting for his stewardship of the Sumner estate shows that he loaned James Kirkland $635, of which sum $214 has been repaid. Of the balance of the $423.95 which Gear acknowledges to having received, he paid into court the sum of $199.35. The balance, aside from the loans above-mentioned, went for "expenses," such as back hire, stage fare, grave digging, support of John K. Sumner and recording fees.

This accounting, which Gear was finally compelled to make, places him in a position that is rather unenviable and he may, according to statements made by court officers, be brought to the attention of the grand jury.

It was on November 4, 1909, that John K. Sumner appointed Gear his attorney-in-fact. But Sumner was in no wise satisfied with A. V.'s administration of the affairs of his estate and on May 9 last he revoked the power of attorney under which Gear held and appointed John Marcellino his attorney-in-fact.

Marcellino promptly wrote to Gear for an accounting, but Gear refused to render it, claiming that the power of attorney under which he had held was irrevocable and he was still Sumner's attorney-in-fact. Marcellino then sued Gear in the circuit court for an accounting and won. But Gear took an interlocutory appeal to the supreme court, where he again lost and the case came back to the circuit court. Gear answered, again claiming that his power of attorney from Sumner was a trust deed and irrevocable. Sumner moved for an interlocutory decree for an accounting, on the pleadings, and his motion was granted and Job Hatchel was appointed Master. Last Monday Gear finally filed his accounts, which disclose the condition of affairs above outlined.

Marcellino, the present attorney-in-fact, is greatly incensed at the demoralized condition of the Sumner estate as turned over to him by Gear and he and Job Hatchel will refuse to accept Gear's final accounting. They propose to go to the courts and try to get something out of Gear for Sumner. One of them even hints that the attention of the grand jury will be drawn to Gear's conduct.

As Gear is bankrupt, it may be difficult to get anything out of him for Sumner by ordinary civil process.
